LSSW is committed to supporting schools to develop a sustainable pipeline of talented, motivated leaders who are ready to meet the challenges and opportunities of tomorrow's education system. We have put outstanding school leaders at the forefront of the design, delivery and assessment of these National Professional Qualifications.

Programme Outlines

The NPQML Programme typically takes up to one year to complete, during which time participants will complete six Areas of Study:

- Leading with Impact
- Increasing Capability
- Working in Partnership
- Strategy and Improvement
- Teaching and Curriculum Excellence
- Managing Resources and Risk

Our Programmes are designed around a blended learning approach which incorporates: three 'Face to Face' days [F2F] covering the Areas of Study; three, two week Online courses, and Self-Supported Study by joining an Online Professional Learning Community. All of this will covers up-to-date content, knowledge and skills. The Online courses have a central focus on 'learn about' - theoretical knowledge and understanding; whilst the F2F sessions focus on 'learn how to' - application and practice.

In addition to the six Areas of Study, there are also seven Leadership Behaviours which set out how a leader should operate on a daily basis. These are:

- Commitment
- Collaboration
- Personal Drive
- Awareness
- Respect
- Resilience
- Integrity

These behaviours are covered throughout the Programmes but mainly during the F2F days. To evaluate each candidate's strengths in each Behaviour, a 360° self-assessment is completed before the Programme begins and another at the end to assess personal growth and leadership development.

Assessment

There are three elements to the award of the National Professional Qualification in Middle Leadership: completion of all the expectations in the Online courses; attendance at all the Face-to-Face days and the final assessment of a school improvement project against the criteria for the award of the qualification.
